SPRING TRENDS

As spring arrives, it's the perfect time to refresh outdoor spaces with high-quality exterior wood products like Accoya, pine, cedar, bamboo, and FrogBoard. Accoya, known for its durability and resistance to weathering, is ideal for long-lasting outdoor use. Pine offers a cost-effective, versatile option, while cedar brings natural beauty and a pleasant aroma, along with great resistance to rot. Bamboo, a sustainable choice, adds a unique aesthetic and is incredibly strong for its weight. FrogBoard, made from recycled materials, is an eco-friendly decking solution that's both durable and low maintenance. Spring is the season to invest in these materials, ensuring your outdoor spaces are stylish, sustainable, and ready for the warmer months ahead.

Accoya

If you're looking for the ultimate in durability and sustainability, Accoya is the way to go. Known for its impressive resistance to weathering, rot, and insects, Accoya is treated through an eco-friendly process that makes it perfect for long-lasting outdoor use. It's the ideal choice for those who want beauty and performance that will stand the test of time

Red Cedar

Red Cedar is a classic for a reason! With its rich color, inviting aroma, and exceptional resistance to rot, it's a go-to for creating beautiful, enduring outdoor spaces. Whether used for decking, siding, or trim, Red Cedar offers both stunning visuals and long-lasting durability, all while being naturally resistant to the elements.

Pine

Pine is a versatile and budget-friendly option that doesn't skimp on quality. Its light weight and ease of use make it an excellent choice for a variety of outdoor applications. When treated, pine can be incredibly durable, giving you the perfect balance of value and performance for your outdoor projects.

Frogbaord

For those who are environmentally conscious and looking for a low-maintenance, high-performance decking option, FrogBoard is a top contender. Made from recycled materials, it offers a durable, slip-resistant surface that's perfect for outdoor living areas. It's an eco-friendly solution that doesn't sacrifice style or function.
